Abstract

Homosexual or "Gay", which means male love male or female love female, can be found more and more in Thai society. Many researchers confirmed that homosexual is not the psychological illness but the environmental of child rearing (cited in Nonglux Em-pradit, et.al., 1986: 35).

This study collected data on violence of "homosexual" from newspapers and television news in 2004. Many case studies showed that most homosexual children who created crime made their parents so sorry and faced trouble because they were prosecuted and their education came to an end. Some parents could not accept of being "homosexual" of their children when they knew later on and punished their children by breaking off relationship.
